Quattro Formaggi Wine Bar is the latest addition to the group of eponymous Italian delis on Sydney's North Shore. Located in the heart of Mosman, this savvy haunt is inspired by Italian-style small grazing plates best accompanied by a glass of wine. An all-day breakfast menu promises silky scrambled eggs with truffle oil and pancetta or thin crepes with dulce de leche. Lunch and dinner are Italian classics – think porchetta panino (roast pork sandwich) and bresaola served carpaccio-style – plus a daily pasta menu where you might find
